Jewish Outlook: I consider myself a Frum and Chassidish women who is proud of Yiddishkeit and being a Lubavitcher, who at the same time enjoys good times with family and friends. I believe that being Chasiddish means to keep working at improving oneself every day.

Personality: My friends would agree that I am a warm and good person. I am dedicated, supportive and caring while at the same time giving others their own space. I pride myself in creating a warm atmosphere in my home. Other attributes that can be used in describing me are honest, patient, responsible, respectful, hardworking, intelligent, kind, friendly, sensitive, nurturing, loving, practical, neat and organized. I am a good listener who is thoughtful and considerate of others, well - mannered and generous.

Though life keeps me pretty busy, when spare time is available, I enjoy doing things for others, reading, taking walks and dining out. I often take varied types of classes to broaden my horizons and further my Jewish and professional education.

Goals: In the future, I look forward to opening my heart and my home to a man who will be a true partner in my life. I plan ly"h to continue working in my profession. In addition to that, my hopes and aspirations for the future are to keep learning and growing as a person and to be able to look at myself in the mirror each night, secure in knowing that I have given it my all and done my best at being a better person than I was the day before.

Looking For:

Jewish Outlook: Lubavitcher Chossid who is strong about his Yiddishkeit and Chassidishkeit and lives by a set of values and morals even in the comfort of his own home. Has a Mashpia and a Rov.
