Candice is warm, outgoing and vibrant. Her lively spirited energy lights up the room and is felt by all those around her. Candice loves a good laugh and she makes great company. She is a loyal and caring friend who will not hesitate to go more than the extra mile to help someone out. Candice is sensitive, loving and generous, sharing herself and her time with others.

Candice is creative and talented in many ways. She expresses her naturally artistic side in drama and art. She often gives engaging classes and workshops, sharing her creativity and teaching others to express themselves as well. Candice has directed acting classes for both children and adults and lends her assistance to Bais Rivka High School each year as they prepare for their grand production. Currently, Candice works for a property management company in Crown Heights.

Yiddishkeit is important to Candice and is reflected in every aspect of her daily life. Candice was raised in a home with strong Jewish values, and is fully committed to a frum Chabad lifestyle. She continues to learn and grow on a regular basis, studying and attending classes and farbrengens.

Candice is looking to build a Jewish home that is open and imbued with the values of Torah and Chassidus. It is important to her to marry someone who shares her deep commitment and desires to grow as well. Kindness, sensitivity and understanding are of utmost importance to her. Candice values stability and maturity as well as openness and honesty. She is expressive, genuine and real and seeks similar traits in a husband. Candice focuses on the bright side and sees things in an optimistic light. She appreciates passion and energy and she also enjoys calm, relaxed and settled personalities.
