General Contractor/ Property Management and Development. Very dedicated to growth of local Lubavitch Mosdos and frequently contributes much time, effort and resources to see this through.

Simmy grew up on Shlichus. He has a chassidishe feeling, enjoys being around quality people, and enjoys a farbrengen and inspiration. He feels strongly about helping out and giving back and not just enjoying life. For example, he works in construction but deeply appreciates the Rebbe's ideals and therefore does all he can to help the local shluchim with construction needs. He is a fun person and likes to have a good time with his friends, but to him a good time could also be doing something for someone or visiting a Chabad House. He has deep values and genuinely cares about people. He is a well-rounded person, is nice to be around, and has a good sense of humor and common sense. He is looking for someone who can appreciate the things he does and who would appreciate him. Someone who has depth, values, and is committed to a frum Lubavitch home.
